ACE Activities at the AAMC (Nov 7-11, 2014)

As the Association of American Medical Colleges meeting nears, we wanted to devote this issue of the Alliance for Clinical Education e-bulletin to activities at the meeting.

We are excited about our annual plenary session this year. Issues related to student mistreatment will be addressed during the panel. Read more about this in the article below.

ACE also has a booth in the exhibition hall. We have a NEW book that will be coming out related to evaluation and assessment. Read more in the article about the IME Exhibit!

Medical Student Mistreatment Panel

The mistreatment of medical students by faculty, residents and others is of increasing concern among medical educators. Much of that abuse is reported to occur on clinical clerkships. The members of this panel will discuss the definition of student mistreatment, the extent of the problem, and possible ways to manage and prevent it. Members of the audience will also be asked to describe ways in which they have successfully dealt with the problem.

Attendees of the panel session should be able to:

1. Identify what constitutes mistreatment of medical students;
2. Describe the extent of the problem of medical student abuse; and
3. Discuss proposed ways of stopping medical student abuse - and the success of such attempts.

Moderator:

- Susan Cox, M.D.; President of the Alliance for Clinical Education and Executive Vice Dean for Academics, Dell Medical School, The University of Texas Austin, Austin, TX

Panelists:

- Robert R. Nesbit, Jr., M.D.; Professor Emeritus of Surgery, Medical College of Georgia at Georgia Regents University, Augusta, GA

The exhibit hall is a great way to network and learn about a variety of services and organizations. ACE will again have a booth in the hall. We will be featuring The Guidebook for Clerkship Directors, 4th Edition. Additional publications and promotional materials will be at our booth.

COMING SOON: ACE Handbook on Assessment and Evaluation of Medical Students

With the success of The Guidebook for Clerkship Directors, ACE worked with the co-authors of the chapter on assessment and evaluation to create a more comprehensive book. The book is in the final stages of editing. The table of contents will be unveiled at the IME exhibit during the meeting.

ACE PROCEEDINGS AND JOURNAL WATCH

ACE has continued its affiliation with the journal Teaching and Learning in Medicine (TLM) to share educational innovation and scholarship among the disciplines. Samples of annual proceedings of clerkship groups, and our new "journal watch" will be available at the exhibit along with individual educational resources from each of the ACE constituent organizations.

About the Alliance for Clinical Education

The Alliance for Clinical Education (ACE) is a multidisciplinary group formed in 1992 to enhance clinical instruction of medical students. This brochure is an update on our activities. ACE's mission is to foster collaboration across specialties in order to promote excellence in clinical education of medical students. Its members include representatives of the groups which direct the core clinical clerkships in our medical schools, such as the following national organizations of clerkship directors:

- Association for Surgical Education (ASE)
- Association of Directors of Medical Student Education in Psychiatry (ADMSEP)
- Association of Professors of Gynecology and Obstetrics (APGO)
- Clerkship Directors in Emergency Medicine (CDEM)
- Clerkship Directors in Internal Medicine (CDIM)
- Consortium of Neurology Clerkship Directors/American Academy of Neurology (CNCD)
- Council on Medical Student Education in Pediatrics (COMSEP)
- Society of Teachers of Family Medicine (STFM)

ACE plays a key role in issues related to multi- and interdisciplinary undergraduate clinical medical education. It has worked cooperatively, within its membership and in conjunction with other public and private organizations, to develop policies, projects and publications that directly impact medical student education.
